Sustainability and Community Investment

At COMO Hotels and Resorts, we act as custodians, rather than managers, of each destination. We recognise the privileges and responsibilities of being part of the community. We are committed to celebrating local culture, supporting the domestic economy and minimising our impact on the environment.

At COMO Maalifushi, we aim to reduce our environmental footprint wherever possible by making the most of the island's natural resources such as using solar energy to generate 15 per cent of the energy used in the hotel, bottling fresh drinking water in glass bottles and supplying our kitchens with fresh fruit and vegetables from our organic garden. As a guest at COMO Maalifushi, you are welcome to join a tour to learn more about our garden and water bottling system.

We are dedicated to conserving the Maldives' rich marine life and encouraging our guests to learn more about the Indian Ocean whenever possible. Furthermore, we share new sightings of whale sharks with Ecocean to aid their cataloguing efforts, and are partnered with Reefscapers to implement our ongoing reef conservation project. You are invited to get involved in this coral propagation programme by helping to erect frames around the reef which help broken corals to regenerate.

A woman with long dark hair, wearing a white dress, is walking away from the camera on a sandy beach. She is holding a wide-brimmed straw hat in her right hand. The beach is white and sandy, with gentle waves lapping at the shore. In the background, a row of overwater bungalows with thatched roofs extends into the turquoise water. A large palm tree is visible on the right side of the frame, its fronds hanging down. The sky is a mix of blue and white clouds.
